ACCIDENT TO WAIKALEALE.

Shortly after noon today, the James Makee came toward port towing the Waialeale. The latter boat had her shaft broken Monday night at midnight while on the way to Kilauea after a load of sugar. Luckily the James Makee left Honolulu for Kapaa a little later than the Waialeale and caught up with her in mid-channel. She then towed the disabled boat to Hanamaulu, the nearest port. The James Makee left Hanamaulu at 4 p m on the 25th with the Waialeale in tow. She got out only a little way when she was forced to put back again because the tow line attached to the Waialeale got caught in her propeller. The James Makee got the Waialeale as far as the entrance to the harbor when the tow line parted and the Waialeale let go her anchors. At 2 p m the tug boat went out and towed the Waialeale in alongside the Inter-Island wharf.

It was at 9:30 a m yesterday that the James Makee put to sea again with the Waialeale in tow. When they had gotten as far as Kaena point, which was at 2:30 o'clock this morning, the Keaouhou caught up with them and asked Captain Tullett if he needed assistance. The captain answered that all was well and the Keaouhou continued on her way to Honolulu.

The accident will cause the Waialeale to be laid up for several days.

COCONUTS FOR THE BEACH ROAD.

Mr. Allan Herbert has just purchased for the Government at his own risk, 1500 Samoan coconut trees from Mr. Rhodes, the nurseryman. These are to be planted along the beach road (Ala Moana) on May First, May Day. There will be a row on each side of the road.

Between these trees will be planted Cocos Plumosa, a small coconut that does not approach the ordinary Samoan coconut in height but spreads out and makes a very pretty effect. The plan is entirely that of Mr. Herbert who is always on the qui vive for something in the plant line that will tend to increase the beauty of the city and outskirts.

plant down within three months. A reservoir would have to be built anyway.

Mr. Hering illustrated his explanations upon the plans before the Board. Before withdrawing he said he could look over the ground near the Queen Emma place, after which he might be able to give further information and answers to question that occurred to the board in the meantime.

Dr. Herbert having gone out, Mr. Smith brought up the necessity of increased accommodation at the Insane Asylum. There were rooms for 99 patients, while there were 117 in the institution. This condition required doubling up in so many cases as to seriously impair the efficiency of the asylum. The last appropriation of $25,000 was exhausted. It was decided to refer the matter back to the committee for having plans of extension perfected.

Dr. Herbert was granted leave of absence for three or four months, his place while absent to be filled by Dr. Humphris.

Dr. Emerson moved, Dr. Wood seconded and it was resolved, that the Government be urged to recognize the immediate necessity of providing for the filtering of the water supply.

The usual routine reports of officers of the board and government hospitals were received.

The president announced the resignation of Mr. Keliipio as fish inspector, on account of being deprived of the use of a cottage on the ground by the clerk of the market. It being suggested that the building was erected by the Board of Health, the matter was deferred until that question was investigated.

Miss L. S. Cleveland, M. D., applied for license to practice medicine, furnishing a recommendation by the examining board. It was voted to request the Minister of the Interior to grant the license.

E. O. Shorey was appointed, by unanimous vote, as food inspector.

An application of Dr. Kobayashi to establish a hospital was laid on the table for want of jurisdiction.

The Molokai expedition was deferred until a suitable steamer could be obtained.

A petition was read from some residents of Kau asking for the removal of Dr. McMillan as district physician. Mr. Smith had been informed that the doctor had the confidence of the plantation managers, but a letter having been received containing a specific complaint the matter was referred to executive session.

The board then went into executive session.
